

STOP. COLLABORATE (AND listen.)

Trying to connect with REMOTE TEAMMATES, deal with EMAIL HASSLES, or MANAGE DOCUMENT VERSIONS can make for long days and missed deadlines, but research suggests that the right collaboration tools can generate A BOOST IN PRODUCTIVITY EQUAL TO GAINING AN EXTRA DAY EVERY WEEK.

IF THAT SOUNDS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE, consider the time and headaches you could save just by replacing email attachments and in-person meetings with online file-sharing and video conferencing.

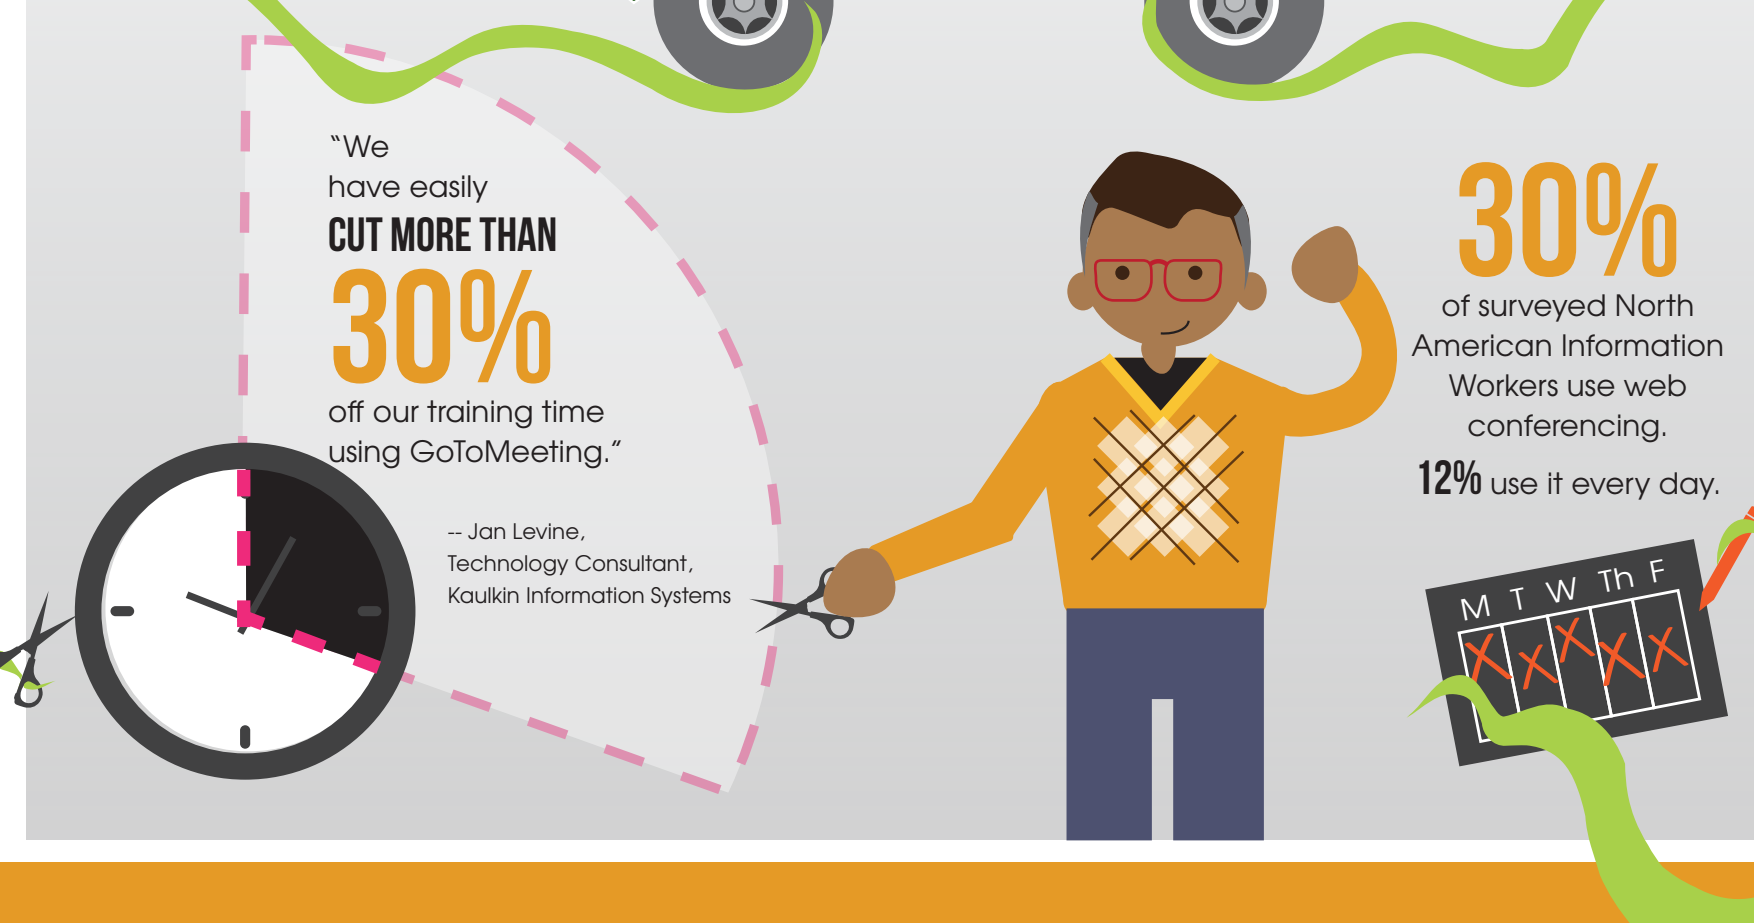

I DID NOT KNOW THAT

When your team is distributed across offices or the globe, it's hard to DISTRIBUTE PROJECT FILES or schedule meetings, and face-time is costly and rare. You need a better way to pool your talent.

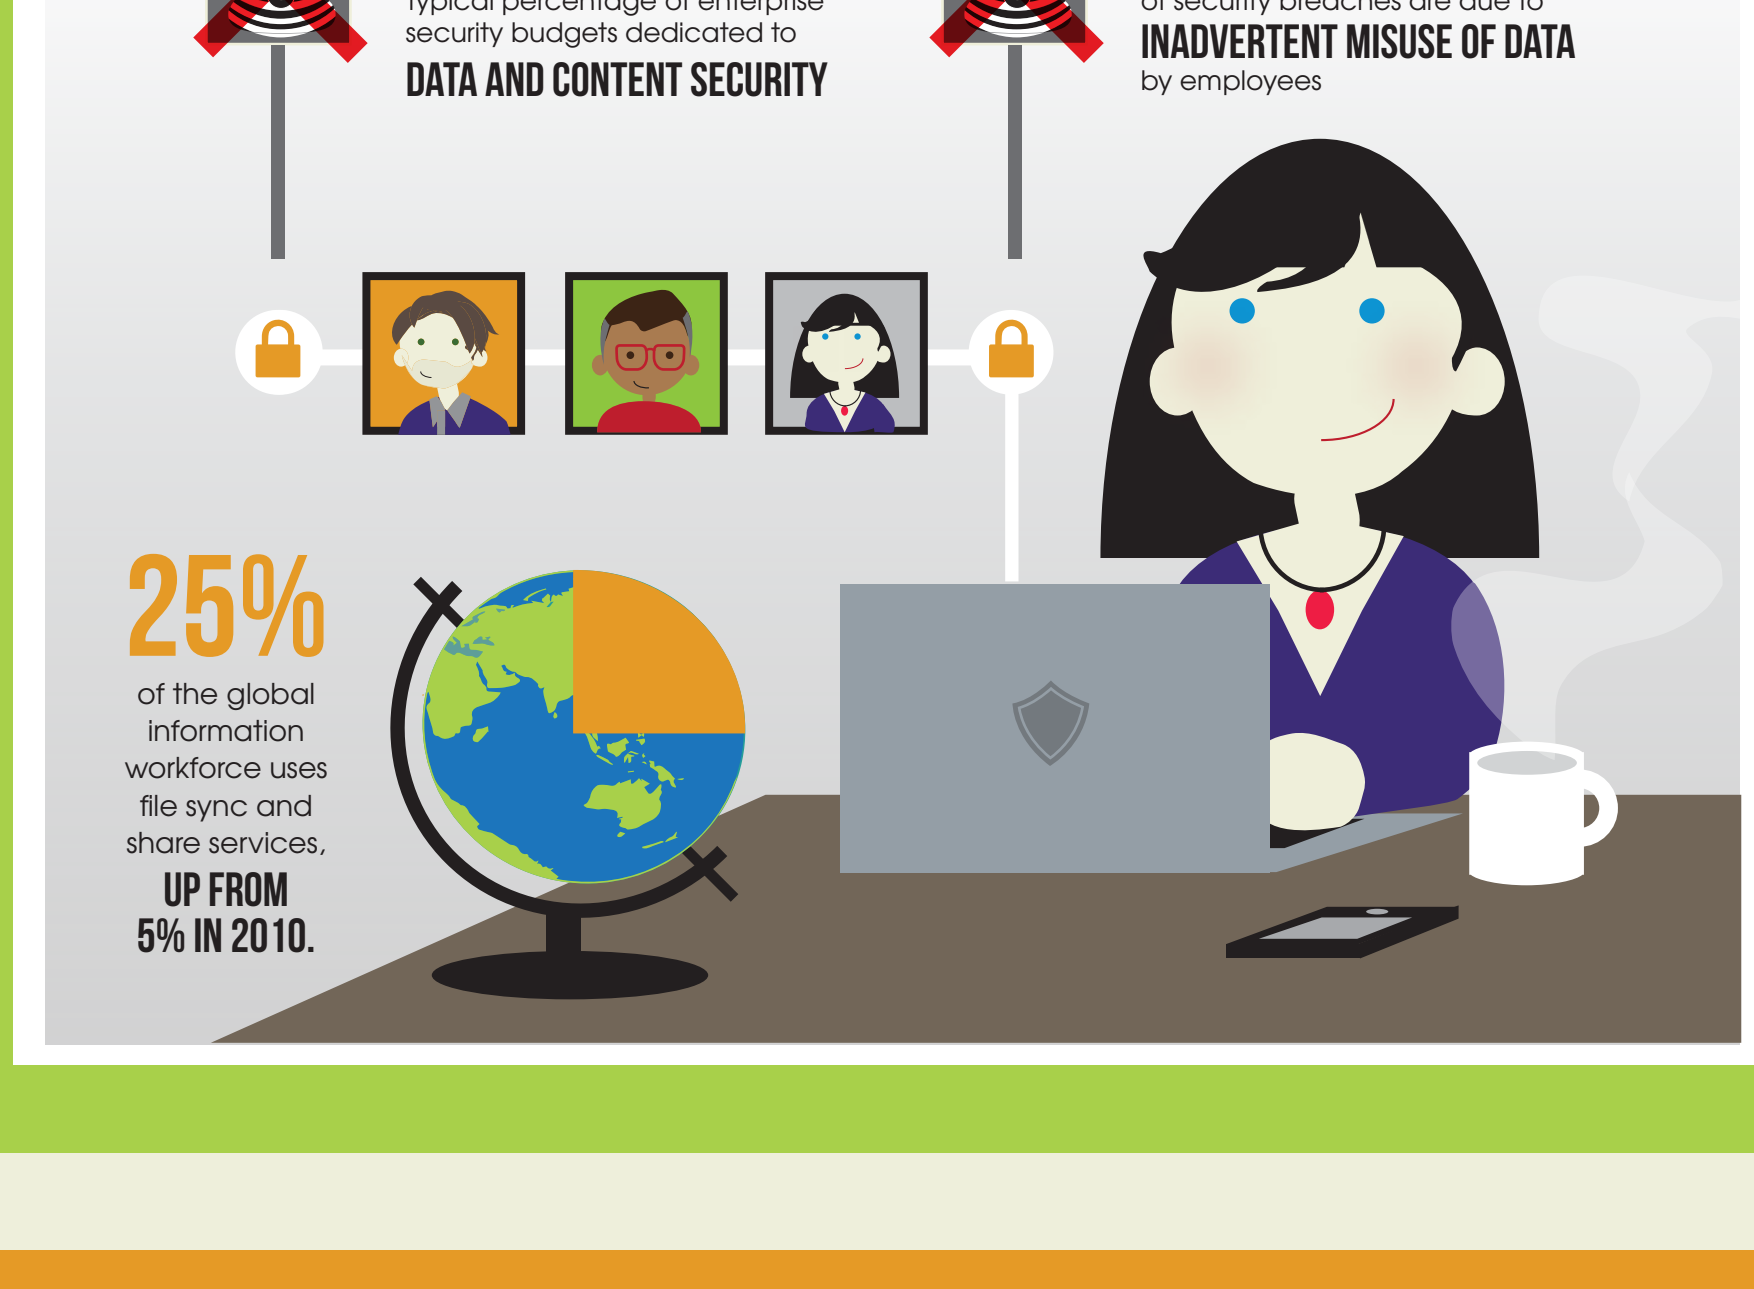

FREE THE TALENT in your organization by providing access to files and web conferences on any device, from your desk, home, or customer's office; work on files with remote colleagues in real time; reduce time and money spent on travel.

It can be difficult to KEEP PROJECTS MOVING forward when you're dealing with countless messages, multiple email addresses, late replies, unsecured networks, and vulnerable attachments.

SHARE FILES IN A SINGLE COLLABORATION SPACE: access files and attend online meetings on any device; and relax with the security of granular user permissions and end-to-end encryption.

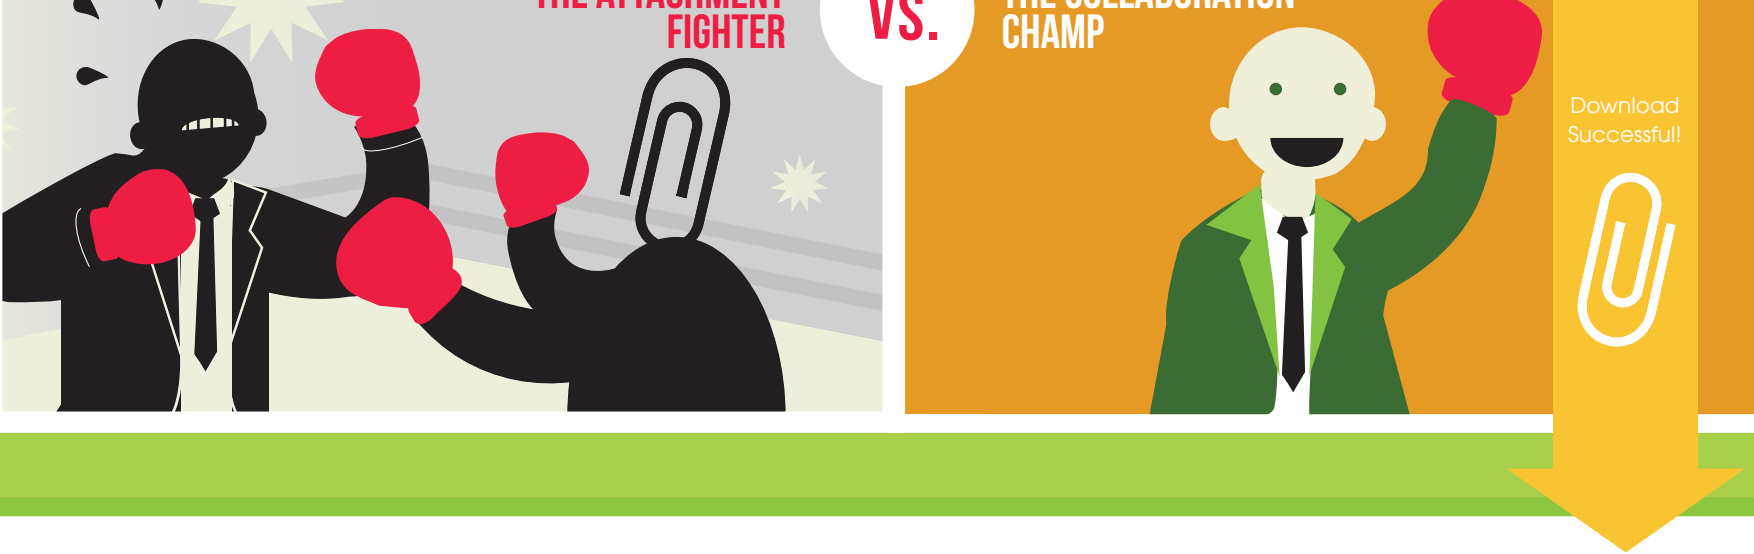

CHALLENGES WITH VERSION CONTROL, delayed responses, and blind follow-ups can keep you up at night and leave projects scattered.

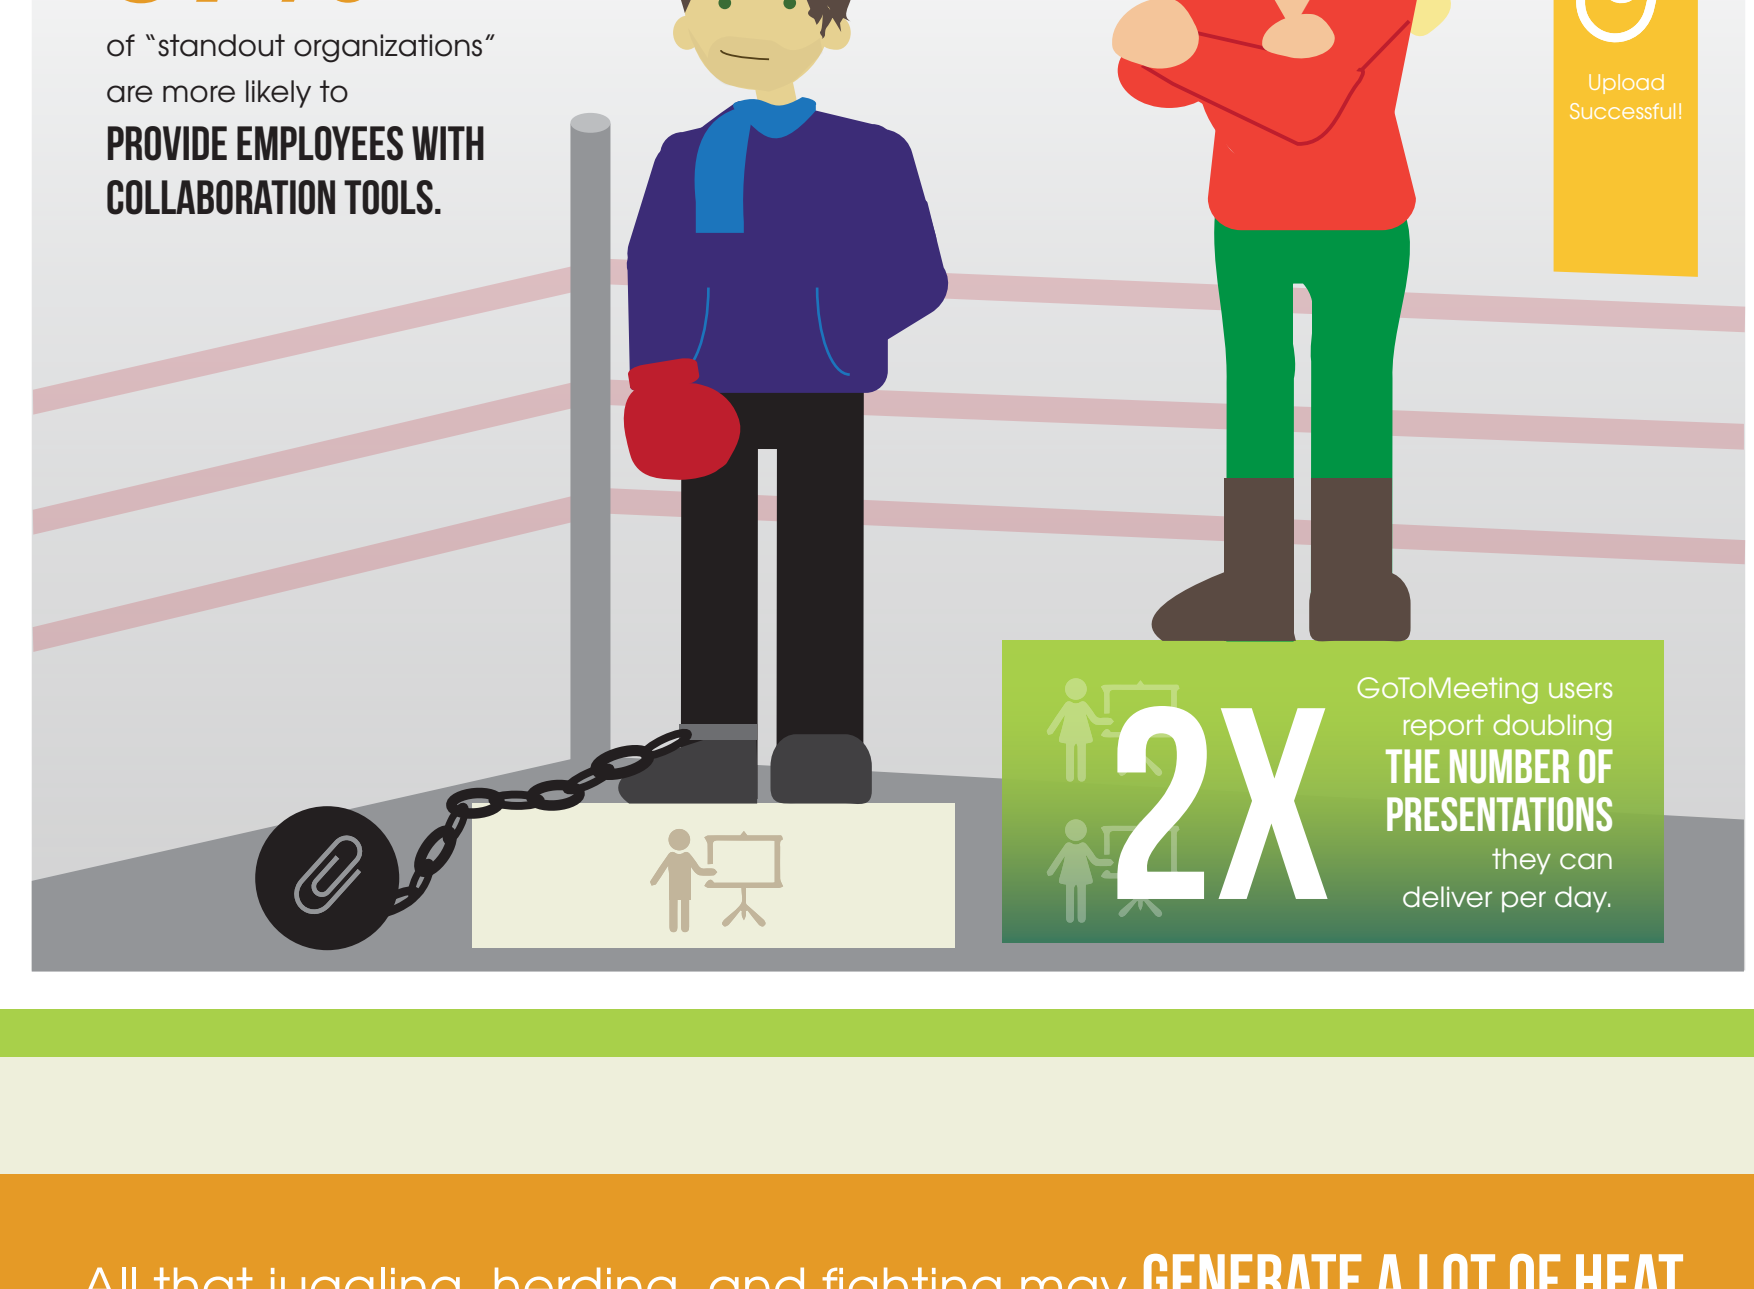

EASILY MONITOR COMMUNICATION in a central space for managing files and versions, and set download alerts to know when files have been accessed so that you can provide timely, tranquil follow-up.

That important document is FINALLY DONE and the client is waiting, but now the email attachment is too big to send, or the client can't download it.

DELIVER KNOCK-OUT COLLABORATION by using online file sharing to distribute presentations, recordings, proposals, and other large files. Then follow up via an HD video conference to foster familiarity via face-to-face connections.

All that juggling, herding, and fighting may GENERATE A LOT OF HEAT, but are you just relaying messages and exchanging documents, instead of building relationships and growing your business?
